

WRAP Charter

Revised October 2009

This statement sets forth the purposes, principles and operating procedures for the Western Regional Air Partnership (WRAP).

PURPOSES

The WRAP provides a venue for Western states, tribes, local air agencies, federal land managers and the USEPA to:

- 1) Maintain and update the regional haze work that WRAP has developed and continue to make the data and tools available for states and tribes to use as they implement their regional haze implementation plans;
- 2) Develop a common understanding of current and evolving regional air quality issues in the West, such as regional haze, ozone, fine and coarse particulate matter, nitrogen deposition and critical loads, and mercury and other hazardous air pollutants;
- 3) Examine and discuss Western regional air quality issues from a multi-pollutant perspective;
- 4) Develop and maintain regional databases that support regional and sub-regional technical analyses. This includes collection and analysis of data from various sources to produce regionally consistent, comparable, complete, and transparent results, able to be utilized and relied upon by individual jurisdictions and agencies;
- 5) Collaborate with USEPA to ensure that, to the maximum extent possible, WRAP data and analyses are compatible with and leverage work conducted at the national level. This could include WRAP work to compile data and analyses related to international, off-shore, and other sources of air pollution affecting Western air quality;
- 6) Evaluate the air quality impacts associated with regionally significant emission sources, such as mobile sources, fire, traditional and alternative energy development/extraction, windblown dust, and electricity generation, and, as warranted, to discuss regional and cross-jurisdictional strategies to improve air quality and mitigate the impacts from such sources;

- 7) Consult with air quality agencies in other regions to reduce duplication of effort and enhance efficiency and consistency of databases and analyses;
- 8) Evaluate how the impacts of climate change may affect air quality in the West; and
- 9) As requested by the membership, formulate and advance consensus positions on Western regional air quality issues.

PRINCIPLES

The WRAP is a voluntary partnership of states, tribes, local air agencies, federal land managers and USEPA. The Partnership recognizes the unique legal status and jurisdiction of tribes and seeks to promote policies that ensure fair and equitable treatment of all participating members of the WRAP. The Partnership also recognizes state, tribal and local air agency authority and responsibility to develop, adopt, and implement individual air quality plans within their jurisdictions.¹

Further, the Partnership recognizes the role of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and its responsibility to develop national regulatory initiatives, review and approve State and Tribal implementation plans, and develop Federal implementation plans as necessary. In addition, the Partnership recognizes the affirmative responsibility of the federal land management agencies under the Clean Air Act to protect the air quality related values, including visibility at mandatory Class I federal areas and to manage all the areas under their respective jurisdictions for the public purposes set forth in their governing statutory authorities.

The WRAP has no regulatory authority and recognizes that all legal authority is reserved by its members in accordance with existing law. The Partnership also recognizes the United States' trust responsibility as carried out by the federal agencies to protect tribal resources from degradation.

As a voluntary partnership, the WRAP is formed as an organization exempt from the Federal Advisory Committee Act. The WRAP will conduct its processes consistent with the concepts of open and participatory government.
